

□ Deadlines & Time-Sensitive Items

Read this first. Missing a legal deadline can end a case. The dates below are estimates generated automatically — always confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

□ Mr. Drummond said if I paid $50 'good faith' by July 3 they'd knock 30% off. — DEADLINE MAY HAVE PASSED

- Estimated deadline: 2026-07-03
- Basis: The court's own summons, hearing notice, or scheduling order setting this date — a court's order or summons is the governing primary authority for a court-scheduled appearance (confirm the date against the document itself).
- Triggering event: deadline on 2026-07-03
- Jurisdiction: MN
- WARNING: this deadline appears to have ALREADY PASSED as of 2026-07-11. This is a date the court gave you directly (a hearing, court date, or stated deadline). Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer. If this date has already passed, contact the court right away — a default judgment or order may have been entered in your absence. Ask the court clerk (or a lawyer) whether you can move to vacate or reopen it; acting quickly matters.

□ the letter came in the mail June 25, it's dated June 20, and it says I owe $2,483.17. — DEADLINE MAY HAVE PASSED

- Estimated deadline: 2026-07-04
- Basis: The cure/vacate period stated in your written notice or lease — the notice/lease term is the operative source of this period (confirm the exact deadline printed on the notice; your state's landlord-tenant statute governs the minimum period).
- Triggering event: notice posted on 2026-06-20
- Jurisdiction: MN
- WARNING: this deadline appears to have ALREADY PASSED as of 2026-07-11. Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer. If this notice period has already passed, act now rather than assume it is over: depending on your state you may still be able to cure, raise defenses at any hearing, or ask the court to vacate a judgment entered against you. Contact the court or a lawyer immediately.

Executive Summary

This intake identified 14 possible legal problems related to both federal and state laws. The issues that have the strongest support are communication with third parties, invasion of privacy, and potential wage garnishment issues (taking money from an employee's paycheck to pay a debt).

IMPORTANT: It seems that at least one important deadline has passed. Mr. Drummond mentioned that if I paid $50 in "good faith" by July 3, they would reduce the amount owed by 30%. (This was calculated for the date 2026-07-03.) [A court's summons, hearing notice, or scheduling order sets this date, and these documents are the main authority for when a court appearance is required. Be sure to double-check the date with the document itself.] Make sure to confirm this right away, as missing deadlines can end a case. The analysis is complete at 100%, but answering 15 follow-up questions below would help make the assessment stronger.
