□ Deadlines & Time-Sensitive Items

Read this first. Missing a legal deadline can end a case. The dates below are estimates generated automatically — always confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

△ on March 9 I gave HR the doctor's note and asked, real polite, can I get moved to the scan station or use the lift assist for the heavy stuff.

- Estimated deadline: 2027-01-03
- Basis: 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(e)(1), applied to ADA claims via 42 U.S.C. § 12117(a) (in a deferral state such as Minnesota, an EEOC charge must be filed within 300 days of the discriminatory act; each discrete act — a denial of accommodation, a discharge — has its own clock).
- Triggering event: served on 2026-03-09
- Jurisdiction: MN
- To sue for disability discrimination under federal law (the ADA), you usually must first file a charge with the EEOC within 300 days of the discriminatory act in Minnesota (42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(e)(1); § 12117(a)). Each separate act — being denied an accommodation, being fired — starts its own 300-day clock, so the EARLIEST act controls for that claim. Note: since Oct. 1, 2025 the state (MDHR) and the EEOC no longer automatically cross-file, so protect BOTH by filing with each. Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

△ on April 6 I received an email saying no lifting up to 50 pounds is an 'essential function.'

- Estimated deadline: 2027-01-31

Executive Summary

This intake found 14 possible legal problems in Minnesota and federal law. The main issues are:

1. Disability Discrimination - not fixing problems for disabled people.
2. Failure to tell you about your FMLA rights.
3. Retaliation - job decisions against you for asking for help. There is a deadline for action. I gave HR my doctor's note on March 9. I politely asked to move to the scan station or use the lift for heavy items. You must act by 2027-01-03. Under 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(e)(1) and 42 U.S.C. § 12117(a), you have 300 days to file an EEOC charge in Minnesota. Each problem, like a denial of help or losing your job, has its own time limit. There are safety concerns based on your story. See the safety resources below. The analysis is 75% done. Answering these 5 questions will help make it stronger.

- Deadline: 2027-03-18

- [] [URGENT] Separate from being fired, the law required your employer to seriously discuss a 'reasonable accommodation' with you (like the scan station or lift-assist) and not just say no (42 U.S.C. § 12112(b)(5); Minn. Stat. § 363A.08). Skipping that back-and-forth (the 'interactive process') can be its own violation, with its own deadline. Did anyone ever actually discuss other job options with you before denying it? [Authority: 42 U.S.C. § 12112(b)(5) (ADA failure to accommodate / interactive process); Minn. Stat. § 363A.08 (MHRA disability accommodation)]

- [] [URGENT] You asked your boss about overtime and were fired the same day. Firing or punishing a worker for asking about unpaid wages or overtime is illegal retaliation in Minnesota (Minn. Stat. § 181.03, subd. 6; § 177.32). The timing matters a lot here. Do you have the texts or messages showing you asked about overtime right before you were fired? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 181.03, subd. 6 (retaliation for asserting wage rights); Minn. Stat. § 177.32 (MFLSA anti-retaliation)]
- [] [URGENT] The severance agreement asks you to release ALL claims — including the discrimination and accommodation claims — for the payment. Do NOT sign it without legal advice first, and note the sign-by date is a CONTRACT deadline set by the employer, not a legal filing deadline. If you do sign, Minnesota law gives you 15 days afterward to cancel the release of your state human-rights claims (Minn. Stat. § 363A.31). Would you like this reviewed before the sign-by date? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 363A.31 (15-day rescission right after signing a release of MHRA claims); a severance release generally waives ADA/MHRA/FMLA claims]
- [] [URGENT] You said you worked 50+ hour weeks but were paid straight time. In Minnesota you are generally owed time-and-a-half for hours over 48 in a week (Minn. Stat. § 177.25), and federal law may require it over 40 (29 U.S.C. § 207). Unpaid overtime can be a big part of what you are owed. Do you have a record of your weekly hours? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 177.25 (MFLSA overtime: time-and-a-half over 48 hrs/week); 29 U.S.C. § 207 (FLSA over 40 hrs/week if covered)]
- [] [URGENT] You were put on unpaid medical leave but say no one mentioned FMLA or gave you any FMLA paperwork. For an eligible employee at a large employer, failing to offer and designate FMLA leave can be unlawful 'interference' (29 U.S.C. § 2615). Eligibility depends on hours worked and employer size. About how many hours did you work in the year before the leave, and how big is the site? [Authority: 29 U.S.C. § 2615; 29 C.F.R. §

825.300 (FMLA interference — failure to designate/notify FMLA leave for an eligible employee)]
