Asking a court to protect you. If someone has hurt you or made you afraid, you can ask a court for an Order for Protection (sometimes called a restraining order). It is a free request you can make yourself: the court clerk's office or a local advocate can give you the forms and walk you through them, often the same day. A domestic violence advocate (reachable through the hotline above)

can help you fill them out and can go with you.

You get to decide what feels safe for you. The steps above are here whenever you are ready.

□ Deadlines & Time-Sensitive Items

Read this first. Missing a legal deadline can end a case.
The dates below are estimates generated automatically — always confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

□ The bank sent a letter dated June 26th saying they flagged unusual activity and want me to come in. — DEADLINE MAY HAVE PASSED

- Estimated deadline: 2026-07-06
- Basis: Minn. Stat. § 504B.321, subd. 1a (14-day written notice required before an eviction action for nonpayment of rent); for other Minnesota notice-to-quit periods see Minn. Stat. § 504B.135. The period printed on your notice controls if longer.
- Triggering event: notice posted on 2026-06-26
- Jurisdiction: MN
- WARNING: this deadline appears to have ALREADY PASSED as of 2026-07-11. Minnesota requires a written notice period before a nonpayment eviction can be filed; the cure/vacate date is computed from the day the notice was given. Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer. If this notice period has already passed, an eviction case may have been filed — but that is not the end: in Minnesota you can still raise your defenses at the eviction hearing (including paying what is owed to redeem in a nonpayment case, Minn. Stat. § 504B.291). If a judgment was already entered, ask about vacating it and about expungement (Minn. Stat. § 484.014).

⚠ There is an appointment on July 16th where I'm apparently supposed to sign listing papers.

- Estimated deadline: 2026-07-16
- Basis: Minn. Stat. § 504B.321 (Minnesota eviction summons/hearing procedure); the hearing date printed on your summons or hearing notice.
- Triggering event: hearing on 2026-07-16
- Jurisdiction: MN
- This is the eviction hearing date printed on your court papers — you must appear; in Minnesota your defenses are raised at this hearing (there is no separate written answer deadline). Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

⚠ Dale grabbed my wrist hard enough to leave a bruise.

- Estimated deadline: date unclear — this time-sensitive item needs an exact date.
- Triggering event: incident on 2026-06-14
- Jurisdiction: MN

- Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

Follow-up Steps

- [] [URGENT] PAST-DUE? Confirm the deadline for: The bank sent a letter dated June 26th saying they flagged unusual activity and want me to come in. (estimated 2026-07-06; Minn. - Deadline: 2026-07-06

- [] [URGENT] Confirm the deadline for: There is an appointment on July 16th where I'm apparently supposed to sign listing papers. (estimated 2026-07-16; Minn. Stat. § 504B.321 (Minnesota eviction summons/hearing procedure); the hearing date printed on your summons or hearing notice.). This is the eviction hearing date printed on your court papers — you must appear; in Minnesota your defenses are raised at this hearing (there is no separate written answer deadline). Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

- Deadline: 2026-07-16

- [] [URGENT] You asked if you can 'undo' the power of attorney. Yes — as long as your mind is clear, you can revoke it at any time with a signed, dated writing, and it takes effect against others (like the bank) once they actually get notice (Minn. Stat. § 523.11). The key step is delivering written revocation to BOTH your son and the bank right away. Would you like help doing that this week? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 523.11, subd. 1 (a competent principal may revoke a power of attorney by a signed, dated writing; effective as to a third party on actual notice)]
- [] [URGENT] What you described — being physically hurt or threatened by a family or household member — may qualify you for an Order for Protection (a court order that can be issued the same day you ask, before any hearing). In Minnesota this is Minn. Stat. § 518B.01; other states have an equivalent. Would you like information about asking the court for one now, separate from any other case? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 518B.01 (Order for Protection; ex parte relief available)]

- [] [URGENT] Because you may be a 'vulnerable adult' (relying on your son for care after surgery), there is a special court order that can quickly FREEZE the account draining and block the house sale — an Order for Protection Against Financial Exploitation of a Vulnerable Adult (Minn. Stat. § 609.2334), which a judge can issue right away in an emergency. This can also be reported to the state (MAARC, Minn. Stat. § 626.557). Would you like to ask the court for this before the July 16 appointment? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 609.2334 (Order for Protection Against Financial Exploitation of a Vulnerable Adult — ex parte relief available); Minn. Stat. § 626.557 (vulnerable-adult reporting / MAARC)]
- [] [URGENT] Even under a power of attorney, your son could pay himself or transfer your money to himself ONLY if the document specifically allowed it (Minn. Stat. § 523.24) — if that box was left blank, those transfers and the 'caregiver pay' likely exceeded his authority, revocation or not. A missing notary can also make the whole POA invalid (Minn. Stat. § 523.01). Do you have the actual POA document so a lawyer can check what was and wasn't authorized? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 523.24 (statutory short-form POA authorizes self-gifting/self-transfers only if expressly elected); Minn. Stat. § 523.01 (valid POA requires acknowledgment)]
- [] [URGENT] Your son grabbed your wrist hard enough to bruise and threatened you in your own home. Because he is a family/household member, you can ask for an Order for Protection that a judge can grant the same day (Minn. Stat. § 518B.01); a Harassment Restraining Order (Minn. Stat. § 609.748) is a backup. This is separate from the money issues. Do you have the photo of the bruise and would you feel safer with such an order? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 518B.01 (Order for Protection — a son living in the home is a family/household member; ex parte relief); Minn. Stat. § 609.748 (Harassment Restraining Order fallback)]
