□ Deadlines & Time-Sensitive Items

Read this first. Missing a legal deadline can end a case. The dates below are estimates generated automatically — always confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer.

□ the case is set for April 1st at 9am at halden county court, housing division — DEADLINE MAY HAVE PASSED

- Estimated deadline: 2026-04-01
- Basis: Minn. Stat. § 504B.321 (Minnesota eviction summons/hearing procedure); the hearing date printed on your summons or hearing notice.
- Triggering event: hearing on 2026-04-01
- Jurisdiction: MN
- WARNING: this deadline appears to have ALREADY PASSED as of 2026-07-11. This is the eviction hearing date printed on your court papers — you must appear; in Minnesota your defenses are raised at this hearing (there is no separate written answer deadline). Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer. If this hearing date has already passed, contact the housing court immediately. If a judgment was entered against you, ask about a motion to vacate the judgment and about expungement of the eviction record (Minn. Stat. § 484.014) — missing the hearing does not always end your options.

□ the 14-day notice was taped to the door on March 3, 2026 — DEADLINE MAY HAVE PASSED

- Estimated deadline: 2026-03-17
- Basis: Minn. Stat. § 504B.321, subd. 1a (14-day written notice required before an eviction action for nonpayment of rent); for other Minnesota notice-to-quit periods see Minn. Stat. § 504B.135. The period printed on your notice controls if longer.
- Triggering event: notice posted on 2026-03-03
- Jurisdiction: MN

- WARNING: this deadline appears to have ALREADY PASSED as of 2026-07-11. Minnesota requires a written notice period before a nonpayment eviction can be filed; the cure/vacate date is computed from the day the notice was given. Estimated — confirm the exact date with the court or a lawyer. Executive Summary

This report revealed 10 possible legal problems in Minnesota. The strongest ones are: Breach of Implied Warranty of Habitability (which means the landlord didn't keep the place safe and livable), Failure to Provide a Habitably Safe Environment (not ensuring the property is safe for tenants), and Potential Breach of Contract Regarding Extra Fees (could mean charging extra fees that weren't agreed upon).

IMPORTANT: At least one important deadline seems to have already passed — there is a court case scheduled for April 1st at 9 a.m. at Halden County Court, Housing Division (this is set for 2026-04-01) [Minn. Stat. § 504B.321 (Minnesota eviction summons/hearing procedure); the hearing date printed on your summons or hearing notice.]. You need to confirm this right away because missing deadlines can affect the case. There are also safety concerns mentioned, so please check the safety resources below. The analysis is 75% complete; answering the 9 follow-up questions below would help improve the assessment.

General

| Failure to Provide a Habitably Safe Environment

Claim Type: discovered | Confidence: 85%

ISSUE

Considering the history of tenant complaints about mold causing health problems, this claim might connect with the current claim of Breach of Implied Warranty of Habitability (the legal obligation for landlords to provide safe living conditions). However, it focuses specifically on the effects on children, which may require further legal issues to be addressed.

CONCLUSION

No elements defined

| Failure to Provide a Safe Living Environment

Claim Type: discovered | Confidence: 40%

ISSUE

The tenant has said there are problems with mold and heating that the landlord has not properly fixed. This could be a violation of the landlord's responsibility to keep the property in good condition.

RULE

No authorities identified for this claim.

APPLICATION

- Residential Tenancy: Supported (81% confidence) - There is a residential tenancy to which the covenant of habitability applies.
 - Fact: Marcus is 7 years old. (81% match)
- Defective Condition: Supported (81% confidence) - There is a defective condition (mold) that materially affects health or safety.
 - Fact: Marcus has asthma. (81% match)
 - Fact: The tenant believes the mold is causing Marcus' coughing. (72% match)
- Landlord's Notice: Supported (81% confidence) - The landlord had notice of the condition (mold and heat issue) or a reasonable opportunity to learn of it.
 - Fact: The tenant called the city on February 20 to report the mold and no heat. (81% match)
- Failure to Repair: Supported (75% confidence) - The landlord failed to repair the issue within a reasonable time.
 - Fact: Failure to show up on April 1st may result in eviction. (75% match)

Retaliatory Eviction

Claim Type: discovered | Confidence: 30%

ISSUE

If the tenant hasn't paid rent and is withholding payment because the landlord hasn't dealt with mold and heat problems, this could lead to a claim of retaliatory eviction (eviction in response to a tenant's complaints) if the landlord tries to evict her after she reported these problems to the city.

- Deadline: 2026-03-25

- [] [URGENT] You reported problems to the city (or an inspector cited your landlord) shortly before the eviction steps started. If a landlord moves to evict soon after a tenant reports code violations, the law may presume retaliation — in Minnesota, Minn. Stat. § 504B.285/§ 504B.441; other states have an equivalent. How soon after your report did the eviction notice arrive? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 504B.285, subd. 2; § 504B.441 (retaliation defense/penalties)]
- [] [URGENT] You mentioned holding back rent because the landlord is ignoring repairs. Withholding on your own can be used against you in an eviction — but there is a legal way to do it: in Minnesota you can deposit the rent with the court (rent escrow, Minn. Stat. § 504B.385) and ask the court to order repairs; other states have an equivalent. Have you asked the court about depositing your rent instead of just holding it back? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 504B.385 (rent escrow); § 504B.425 (remedies); § 504B.161 (covenants of habitability)]
- [] [URGENT] You said the court papers (summons) were just TAPED to your door. In Minnesota a summons can be posted like that only if the landlord first tried to hand it to you in person and could not find you, and then also mailed you a copy (Minn. Stat. § 504B.331). If those steps were skipped, the service may be defective and can be challenged. Were you ever handed the papers in person, or did anyone mail you a copy? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 504B.331 (eviction summons service; posting/'nail-and-mail' allowed only after diligent attempts at personal service and if the tenant cannot be found, plus mailing)]
- [] [URGENT] You mentioned paying extra money (like a cash pet deposit) with no receipt. Deposits are regulated — in Minnesota the landlord must account for them, pay interest, and return them with an itemized statement (Minn. Stat. § 504B.178); other states have an equivalent. A cash payment with no receipt can still count. How much did you pay, when, and do you have any proof (texts, witnesses, bank withdrawal)? [Authority: Minn. Stat. §

504B.178 (security deposits: receipt, interest, return); § 504B.172]

- [] [URGENT] Your notice appears to give a vague reason (like a 'material lease violation' box with no specifics). A notice usually must state the specific grounds so you can respond — a vague or defective notice can be challenged. What exactly does the notice say, and does it list any specific violation, amount, or cure period? [Authority: State eviction-notice content requirements (e.g., Minn. Stat. § 504B.321; the notice must state the specific grounds)]

Withholding on your own can be used against you in an eviction — but there is a legal way to do it: in Minnesota you can deposit the rent with the court (rent escrow, Minn. Stat. § 504B.385) and ask the court to order repairs; other states have an equivalent. Have you asked the court about depositing your rent instead of just holding it back? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 504B.385 (rent escrow); § 504B.425 (remedies); § 504B.161 (covenants of habitability)]

- Procedural Requirement (Priority 82): Your notice appears to give a vague reason (like a 'material lease violation' box with no specifics). A notice usually must state the specific grounds so you can respond — a vague or defective notice can be challenged. What exactly does the notice say, and does it list any specific violation, amount, or cure period? [Authority: State eviction-notice content requirements (e.g., Minn. Stat. § 504B.321; the notice must state the specific grounds)]

- Procedural Requirement (Priority 84): You said the court papers (summons) were just TAPED to your door. In Minnesota a summons can be posted like that only if the landlord first tried to hand it to you in person and could not find you, and then also mailed you a copy (Minn. Stat. § 504B.331). If those steps were skipped, the service may be defective and can be challenged. Were you ever handed the papers in person, or did anyone mail you a copy? [Authority: Minn. Stat. § 504B.331 (eviction summons service; posting/'nail-and-mail' allowed only after diligent attempts at personal service and if the tenant cannot be found, plus mailing)]
